Nominated overseas issuing/advising bank and branch details (if any) **

Natwest's request to an overseas bank to issue their Guarantee in favour of the beneficiary:

This option should only be selected if local law or the beneficiary's preference prevents the acceptance of a Guarantee direct from Natwest. Natwest's own direct Guarantees are widely acceptable throughout the world, and offer distinct advantages:

- i) Greater control over the Guarantee, as you will be dealing only with Natwest and the beneficiary under the Guarantee, without the involvement of a second bank.
- ii) Avoidance of the additional charges, which an overseas bank would make for issuing their Guarantee.

 Nominated Overseas Issuing/Advising Bank

If known, the name and branch address of the overseas issuing/advising bank, should be entered here. If left blank, Natwest will select the overseas issuing/advising bank.

5. Format of Guarantee

Guarantee format

If the format required has already been submitted or issued, please enter the reference:

DW/V

If you have asked Natwest to request an overseas bank to issue their Guarantee in favour of the beneficiary, Natwest will instruct an overseas bank to issue its standard Guarantee using the details provided.

Wherever non-standard wording is requested a flat fee will be charged covering the review process which is necessary to ensure the wording is suitable for Natwest to enter into.

This will be charged whether or not the instrument is eventually issued.

Natwest will examine the text and if satisfactory, will issue the Guarantee. If the wording is not satisfactory, Natwest will amend the text and will advise you of any amendments and any other understandings as to how the Guarantee is to be interpreted.

If the box is marked in conjunction with the Request to an overseas bank to issue their Guarantee in favour of the beneficiary, then we are unable to opine whether such a correspondent would find the wording acceptable. We will instruct the overseas bank to issue the guarantee in the format required and it shall be assumed the overseas bank has issued the guarantee unless further comment is provided by the correspondent bank.

The charge for 'non-standard wording' will not be implemented in the following cases:

- i) Using wording identical to guarantees or standby letters of credit previously issued by us in the last 2 years indicated by inserting the previous reference in the space provided in section 1, above
- ii) Pre-printed set format industry standard guarantees including all bonds to HMRC, The Society and Council of Lloyds, Rural Payments Agency (Block Guarantee only), and travel bonds e.g. ABTA, CAA, AITO, ABTOT, ATA Carnet Guarantees, Bonded Coach Holiday Group, IATA

Currently the maximum liability to HM Revenue & Customs under a deferred payment guarantee is twice the monthly deferred amount, as a deferred payment period of two (2) months is covered under the terms of the guarantee.
